JAKE STAHL WILL OCCUPY CHICK'S PLACE

Cantillon Arranges Deal for Boston Americans' Managership.

Tough Job, With Interfering Owner, and Disgruntled Team.

Drove Chick to Suicide, What'll It Do to Jake?

By THOMAS S. RICE.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 2.—As I predicted in The Times of yesterday, the object of the visit of Manager Joe Cantillon to Chicago, while the team was playing in Springfield, was to arrange a deal with President Taylor, of the Boston Americans, whereby Jake Stahl is to take charge of that club in place of Chick Stahl, whose suicide last week startled ball players everywhere.

There is not a man on the Washington team who does not want to see Stahl succeed in Boston, and the same is true of the sporting writers and fans, but it is hard to see how he can get along any better there than he did in the National Capital.

Hard Row to Hoe.
The conditions of his start in Boston are very much like those of his start as a manager in Washington three years ago. He has a full-end team, hard to manage and thoroughly discouraged. Behind him is an obdurate and not experienced owner who will hardly let him have a free hand or more than nominal authority, any more than he had in Washington. He will have an uphill and almost thankless struggle, in which every failure will be condemned and every success only sparingly praised, for it will be practically impossible for Stahl to make any great showing this year.

Chick Stahl complained bitterly before his death, according to the newspaper stories, that his position as manager with Boston was a mere name. Such conditions make discipline almost impossible and make the job unbearable for any man who is not a mere animated callosity, caring for nothing as long as he gets his money. Jake Stahl is even more sensitive and high-strung than Chick was, and what may have driven one man to suicide might easily result in the wrecking of another.

Knocks From Fading Stars.
There are a number of old players in the Boston ranks who feel that their time is limited, and are sore on themselves for that reason. It can easily be imagined the embarrassments they will throw in the way of a young manager who starts with the record of having been a failure in another city. These fading stars are sure to overlook no opportunity to hand out knocks and sneers for the man who has been placed over their head, and will go all the stronger if he is not given the authority to suspend them or fire them off the team at the first sign of insubordination.

Year before last in Washington, worrying about the failure of his team to advance and his own weak batting so preyed on Jake Stahl's mind that his health broke down, and he had to go to Atlantic City for two weeks for a complete rest. He will be fortunate, with the Boston Club on his hands, if he does not have to go further.

WANTED FINGER SEWED ON,
CUT OFF BY MACHINERY
POTTSTOWN, Pa., April 2.—Raymond Kirlin, a lad employed at the Stanley G. Flagg foundry, in the western borough limits, had a finger cut off in a machine. Putting the severed part in his pocket, he came to town and wanted a doctor to sew it on again, and it required a good bit of explanation to convince him that it could not be done.

THE WEATHER REPORT.
The weather has cleared in the East and South, with a further fall in temperature and killing frost in Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, and North Carolina. The minimum temperatures reported this morning from the Ohio valley, the Middle Atlantic and New England States, and thence southward to and including North Carolina range from the freezing point to 14 degrees below, and in some localities approach to within 1 or 2 degrees of the lowest April minimum previously reached. In the Southwest some rain has fallen, elsewhere the weather has been fair.

HARRIMAN LIES, SAYS PRESIDENT ABOUT CHARGES

Replies to Railroad Man's Accusation by Reprinting Letters to Sherman in Which He Had Denied Accusation of Asking Magnate's Aid.

I feel particularly fortunate that I have been attacked within the last few days by both Ex-Senator Burton of Kansas and Mr. Harriman.
—President Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt this afternoon gave the lie to the assertions made in the alleged Harriman-Webster letters, by making public copies of letters which the President wrote to Representative Sherman of New York last October.

In one of these letters, the President said:

"I understood him to say that he (Harriman) alleged that I made this promise (referring to Depew as ambassador to France) at a time when he had come down to see me in Washington when I requested him to raise $250,000 for the Republican Presidential campaign, which was then on. Any such statement is a deliberate and wilful untruth—by rights it should be characterized by even a shorter and more ugly word. I never requested Harriman to raise a dollar for the Presidency."

After giving out the correspondence, the President said:

"I feel particularly fortunate in hav-

LUNACY BOARD AGAIN HOLDS OPEN SESSION

NEW YORK, April 2.—Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton said Thaw is suffering from chronic delusional insanity, known as paranoia.

NEW YORK, April 2.—A hard fight over the admission of expert testimony to show that Harry Thaw is insane at present was expected when the lunacy commission which is now examining the slayer of Stanford White resumed its hearing today. Acting on the promise of the commissioners made on Saturday to allow the alienists to testify as to what they observed of Thaw in court, his letters and the testimony they heard, Jerome was prepared to fight hard to broaden this inquiry and force upon the commissioners the views of his experts that Thaw is an incurable paranoiac, and for this reason should not be on trial for his life.

Thaw's lawyers, on the other hand, were just as determined to prevent such an examination of the alienists, if possible. The previous ruling of the board favored the Thaw lawyers.

Evelyn Thaw in Court.
Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was at the court house early, in obedience to the subpoena served on her yesterday by Jerome calling her as a witness in the proceedings. Just why Jerome wanted to question her as to Thaw's alleged insanity no one understood.

"I can only do what I did when I was on the stand before—tell the truth," Evelyn said, tearfully, when asked if she believed Jerome wished to make her a witness to prove Harry insane.

"And when I tell the truth it will show the commissioners that Harry is sane as anybody."

Thaw's lawyers declared Evelyn, if called to the stand, would prove a strong witness. They felt that the board would limit any examination of her to events since the killing.

Will Call No Witnesses.
Thaw's attorneys today stood by their original declaration that they will summon no more witnesses before the commission. They believe Thaw's examination convinced the board of his sanity.

About the courthouse it was felt the insanity proceedings would be wound up tomorrow at the latest, and the board's report filed in time to allow Justice Fitzgerald either to order the trial to continue or discharge the jurors, when they meet at 10:30 Thursday morning, in accordance with the finding of the examiners. That the report will favor Thaw is the common view today.

Dr. Francis McGuire, physician at the Tombs, was called to the stand shortly after Thaw was brought over from the Tombs. The prisoner nodded to his wife.

EIGHT HUNDRED MORE EMPLOYES FOR NAVY YARD

Third Shift of Skilled Machinists Will Be Added.

Enough Work to Keep Them Employed for Three Years.

Ordinance for Two New Battleships Probably to Be Made Here.

Eight hundred additional men in all probably will soon be employed at the Washington navy yard to make up a third shift, and as a consequence every employee of the yards feels safe again. But it was not so a short time back. For many months well-founded rumors were rife at the yard that foretold the dismissal from the Government service in the yard of more than 1,000 skilled machinists and gunmakers, by reason of the reported determination of Former Secretary of the Navy, Beaupre, to place the manufacture of a large amount of ordnance work with private concerns under contract. Had this been done the work at the yard would have been cut down to such a point that it would have been necessary for Commandant Capt. E. H. C. Leutze to have dismissed almost 1,000 of the best-paid men in the yard, who would have been forced to leave Washington and seek employment at other industrial centers.

Three Years' Work Ahead.
But the men will not be discharged, it is now believed. It is understood Secretary of the Navy Metcalf wants this ordinance work done in the gun shops of the Washington yard. It will require the services of the full force now employed there, with an additional 800 men put on to make up the third shift, working three shifts of eight hours each, covering a period of more than three years. The slogan is three years of steady work, and every man in the yards is as happy as a school boy looking for a vacation.

The heavy ordinance to be built for the two new battleships, Nos. 22 and 23, provided for by Congress, with a displacement of something like 10,000 tons, and which will cost between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000 each. It will require more than three years to construct the guns for these two ships. The contracts for the construction of these ships have not been let, but it was stated at the navy yard that the plans and specifications for the guns are in the hands of the officials of the gun factories.

Will Benefit Union.
The order of the Secretary keeping this work here will largely benefit members of Columbia Lodge, No. 174, International Association of Machinists, who make up the rank and file of the high-class machinists that will be engaged on this work at the yard.

From a state of expected heavy discharge of skilled mechanics to three years assured work, with an additional third larger force to be employed after July 1, and the local yard on a boom and prosperity all around, are the conditions that are meeting the army of men in the yard happy.

If the contracts for ordnance were placed with contractors and taken away from the Washington yard, it would force hundreds of machinists, who are buying their homes in north-east and southeast Washington, to abandon them for whatever they could secure.

At the next meeting of Columbia Lodge some testimonial will be passed by the machinists expressive to Secretary Metcalf, Commandant Leutze, and Commander Willard of the appreciation of the men who will be benefited by the retention of the work in the local yard.

ELECTION DAY AT CHICAGO WITH A RUSH

CHICAGO, April 2.—The battle of ballots, which today ends the bitter contest between Mayor Edward F. Dunne and Postmaster Fred A. Busse, for the office of mayor, started today with a rush. When the voting places are closed it is expected that nearly 400,000 persons will have voted.

Busse and his friends claim he will be elected by 40,000 votes. Dunne is more modest in his claims. He figures that 25,000 will represent his plurality.

Aside from voting for a mayor for the new term of four years, the citizens of Chicago are also casting ballots today in the hope of settling the traction question, which has been before them for so many years. On this issue Busse and the traction interests are on one side, and Dunne is on the other. The people will place their stamp of approval or disapproval on them today.

TRUSTEES HOLD EDDY MILLIONS

Property Transferred to Three Men
March 6.

Caring for Property
During Earthly Life.

Reservation by Owner of Certain Rights.

CONCORD, N. H., April 2.—Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder and mother of the Christian Science sect, has given her millions into the charge of three men prominent in the church, who will act as trustees as long as she lives.

The transfer, which was made March 6, became known this afternoon, when the attorneys appeared before the superior court to make return to the suit in equity to compel the leaders of the Christian Science church to answer to charges of mismanaging and misappropriating Mrs. Eddy's property.

By virtue of the assignment the three trustees moved this afternoon for leave to intervene, and be substituted as plaintiffs in place of the so-called "next friends"—George W. Baker, Mary Baker Glover, Mrs. Eddy's relatives.

This is the surprise mentioned by the defense, and it created a great sensation when the papers were filed. The transfers of the property, both real and personal, were made for the consideration of $1 and with certain reservations. The trustees are empowered to control during Mrs. Eddy's earthly life. When she dies they must dispose of it in accordance with her will.

The trust deed says:

Mrs. Eddy's Directions.
"I hereby reserve for myself the right of occupancy and use of my homestead, 'Pleasant View,' in Concord, N. H. I hereby reserve all household furniture, my printed library, and all horses, carriages, and tools and other articles of use or adornment now being, or in use, in or about my home premises at 'Pleasant View.' I hereby reserve the right to occupy and to rent for my own use, my two houses at 27 and 338 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, Mass."

"It is my wish that in making investments preference should be given to State, Government, city, and municipal bonds; but I leave this to the judgment and discretion of said trustees. These trustees shall pay to me, from time to time, out of the income of said trust property: (1) such sums as I may need for my own support and maintenance; (2) such sums as I may desire for my own personal expenses and for charitable purposes; and (3) such sums as I may desire for the cause and doctrine of Christian Science, as taught by me."

The trustees are Henry M. and Archibald McClellan, of Boston, and Josiah E. Furber, of New York, and are the pillars of the Christian Science Church.

They are vested with full power as Mrs. Eddy's attorneys and directed to furnish bonds to the amount of $50,000 each, the expense thereof to be paid from the trust fund.

INJURED ATTORNEY HAS WRECK CASE

Baker Will Present Evidence on B. & O. Disaster to Jury.

The grand jury which convened today will investigate the Terra Cotta wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in December last, in which forty-five persons lost their lives and a score were maimed for the balance of their lives. United States Attorney D. W. Baker, who himself was hurt in the wreck, will present the case to the jurors. An exhaustive inquiry was made by the coroner's jury after the wreck, and eight railroad men, including train dispatchers, operators, and trainmen were held to be either directly or indirectly responsible for the accident.

The organization of the jury was not completed today, only seventeen members having been selected. The remaining six jurors will, however, be chosen tomorrow morning, when the full panel will be instructed as to its duties and powers by the court.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP TO EXPOSITION

President Roosevelt will be accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, their two younger sons, Archie and Quentin, and possibly by Miss Ethel, to the Jamestown Exposition. They will leave here on the afternoon of April 23.

According to the President's understanding, the trip will be made on the yacht Mayflower, which will be his headquarters from the time he leaves until he returns.
